

Tailored multi-asset liquidity via single API

Multi-asset liquidity and back office functionality via single API and single margin account

API connectivity with major technology, bridge and platform providers

Presence in multiple financial data centres

Industry trends

The democratisation of financial technology has led to a proliferation of technology platforms and solutions providers, united by industry-standard protocols such as FIX.

Many retail brokers use MT4 or other platforms as a client facing solution.

Technology driven liquidity providers offer their clients ready-made connectivity to the platforms of their choice, via stable industry standard channels.

Saxo's response

Saxo's API trading solution provides market access through an electronic trading infrastructure that is stable, fast, flexible and fully documented.

An industry standard FIX API offers clients seamless and stable electronic execution capabilities.

Pre-built integration with multiple end points brings fast time to market for a wide range of client types and market venues.

A range of account management and STP API's supports custom integration requirements.
